

AGRI 1101: Special Topics

This course allows students to collectively choose a special interest topic, design a topic outline, and collaborate on the collection, discussion, and dissemination of information relevant to the selected topic. The students will brainstorm various issues or concerns surrounding the focus topic and seek to develop solutions to either prevent or alleviate those issues/concerns. A portfolio is to be built over the duration of the course, and presented at the end for a final grade.

Credits: 2

Prerequisites:

1st Year Standing

Department: Agriculture