

MARN 2102: Tropical Ichthyology

This course is designed to familiarize students with the most numerous and diverse group of vertebrates - fishes. Topics to be covered include taxonomy and classification, species diversity, morphology, distribution, behaviour and management, particularly in relation to fish found in The Bahamas and the Western Central Atlantic Ocean.

Credits: 3

Class Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

MARN 1201

MASC 1102

Department: Marine Science