

ACCT 2001: Managerial Accounting

This course is an introductory level managerial accounting course designed to give students a fundamental understanding of accounting as a decision making tool within an organization. Emphasis will be placed on the identification and assignment of product costs, operation budgeting and planning, costs control, and management decision making

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

ACCT 1201

MATH 1008

MATH 1001

MATH 1008 or MATH 1001

Department: Business