

MATH 1000: Technical Mathematics

This course integrates the topics of arithmetic and algebra to solve routine problems in agricultural operations.

In this course, one will use simple calculations to determine rates, proportions, conversions, quantities, areas, volumes and related applications. Students will be trained to use mathematical concepts to facilitate agricultural operations including farm building establishment and land preparation.

Credits: 3

Class Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

None

Department: General Education