

MATH 2104: Introduction to Statistics and Data Analysis

This course presents the basic principles and practice of statistics and data analysis that are used in collecting data and converting to information. It will seek to equip and empower students to discover the real-world subject-matter relevance to other courses in the programme through the use of related examples.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

MATH 1001

MATH 1008

MATH 1001 or MATH 1008

Department: General Education