

BUSS 2204: Leadership Development

The course is designed to give students an understanding of the various leadership styles that exist within an organization and to develop strategies when interacting. Students would be able to identify the strengths and weaknesses of their own style so that they would be able to communicate more effectively.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

COMM 1001

Department: Business